ZK as the UI interface for a government project

ZK + Spring + Hibernate

IISI uses ZK as the UI interface for the administrative interface of a government project, providing an information hub supporting the daily public service of 1,000+ government officers.

The project is composed of ZK + Spring + Hibernate.

WHY ZK

Some of our team members had a positive experience with ZK in their previous projects, so it wasn't difficult for us to decide to choose ZK as our UI framework.

ZK's ready-to-use components allow us to build the prototype and the actual project in a very short time. This was especially helpful in the early stage of the project - we could easily update the prototype based on the user's feedback until we reached a satisfied state.

Also, we are happy with the quality of the components - they work as expected, and we did not have to report any bugs or ask ZK for support.

Finally, all our projects have to go through penetration tests and depending on the solution being used, the process may be complicated. Luckily, the process was easy with ZK and saved us a lot of time.

“We are satisfied with the quality of ZK components “

The Result

The project started in 2016 and has been deployed to the field, supporting thousands of government officers daily with low maintenance required. We are satisfied with the productivity boost ZK brought us and the quality of the framework. With this positive experience, we recommend ZK as the preferred UI framework when implementing other Web applications.
